

Toto And His Class
(Toto'nun Sınıfı)
Illustrated by Behiç Ak

We first met Toto with his pink, butterfly designed congenial umbrella in the book named “Toto And His Umbrella”. In that time, Toto was young, pretty and intelligent. In this new book named, “Toto And His Class”, our old friend is meeting us, grown up; but never lost anything from his qualifications. “In Toto And His Class”, we'll read Toto's four new adventures. In the chapter named “New Friend”, Toto and his friends focus on the new female student called Lumba, in Mr Togo's class. However the huge amount of girls got irritated from Lumba, Toto found a way to communicate her. In the chapter named “Peaceful Day”, Mr Togo brought his students to a Eventide Home. Toto exhibits his difference again in this situation. In the chapter called “What a Project This's”, he and his friends begin to work on a tough Project. They are all confused and struggled on deciding rather the subject of the project; than it's toughness. In the chapter called “Game Inside The Game”, we'll find Toto in an interesting game that made him sleppless and addicted.

Children's Novel, 104 pages, 2011
ISBN: 978-975-07-1294-4
8,9,10